

ON-SITE TRAINING

More and more companies are realizing the value of conducting training on-site. RelyOn On-Site Training provides companies the opportunity to have training delivered in their own environment to reduce training cost and increase competency matrix compliance.

We engage experienced instructors and assessors who have the knowledge and experience to provide high quality training. Our instructors are multi-disciplined and are the best in their field, conducting all types of safety training at multiple on-board locations throughout the world.

We also provide Verification of Competence (VOC) assessment programme based on the principle of assessing the level of competency for each emergency response function.
